John C. H. Smith, Esq., our reading boy, at 1 P.M. last Wednesday, January 10th, very kindly sent me £10 in cash, which I handed over to Mr. Levy, carrying the money as modelled in an old Will; a copy of which is in Levy's hands.

The next day, Mr. A. and I were introduced to him by Yulianuk.

2nd copy of the same - addition made, fixed cover over, leaves in the same day.

Kiev District. I noticed that Rev BOLES was very careful and obviously the ladies accompanying him had to "cover traces after A and himself". The letter led the street
A into a building on the corner or next to it, after about a 15 minutes walk. I did not remember the route, the only indication that they passed by Spiridonovka Greek church. This encounter with the underground man took place in a large room on the second floor. The janitor must have known in advance about their arrival ~~(especially)~~ because she showed them directly "up".
With his back to the window covered with a curtain in a half darkened room A met the man aged about 40-45, ~~Mr C~~, thin, long face, with straight rather long nose which made him resemble in a normal way those who stand on a flower bed in points which he wanted her to fully comprehend. He left alone
A with the man for the introduction and waited for her in a nearby room.
The underground man started his talk with asking A whether the Ukrainian emigration and the free world were aware of the situation in the Ukraine and of the struggle of Ukrainian people for freedom. She informed her that the Ukrainian nation continued to fight against communism with means available now and that emigration and the free world should know about it. In general terms he told her about the nature and aims of the Underground he was representing. In addition to what was said in the previous report, according to A, the underground man stressed ^{slightly} A need for information from abroad sent to them via radio and otherwise so that the people abroad will know how to do these things. In its part he promised to supply all necessary material to prove to the emigration and the free world that Ukrainians continued to fight and deserved to be helped by the West.
He also spoke of what he was doing by A. He informed her and the others that he had to give the two middle fingers of each hand a very hole the size of a pea. On the other hand, this kind of punishment was not going to be subjected to any leadership abroad. He stated that the Ukraine wanted was co-operation only.

Another thing the man asked was material aid. All matters, however, will be solved in detail after a contact with the KGB. Second ~~question~~ is answered. On this occasion he mentioned again radio as only broaden to from abroad but also as eventual means of communication. He asked A to come again to LVIV and therefore to behave now in such a way as to avoid anything that would jeopardize her visiting to the Ukraine in the future. She should comply with KGB'S demands and wishes, sign the articles they asked her to, praise whatever they wanted ~~etc.~~ but at the same time point out to some of their deficiencies to make all that look natural and not deliberate or ~~and~~ artificial.

The encounter with the underground man lasted for about 45 minutes. Then he accompanied A to the door and asked for Rev BORYS who accompanied her out of the building.

2. After this meeting A talked also several times with BORYS and NIZALOV about the Underground matters. They gave her KAPO as the contact to them in LVIV. They also repeated to her more or less the same she was told by the underground man. Rev BORYS asked A to convey to the Metropolit GLIYI and the Pope "an assurance that Ukrainian people were fighting not only for national but also for religious cause". The Pope ago A was instructed to convey "in general" without mentioning any names. She did so upon talking to "Mr. GLIYI, Archbishop BOKO, Rev NIZALOV and Rev VELYKYYI in Rome.

3. As A was told by YEREMEK and CHODOROVYCH she was also connected with the underground. He made, however, a note at "on the side" because of continuous trouble he had with the KGB. He gave A his manuscript asking her to do what she deemed right to be. He mentioned that he had a manuscript from the Ukraine to the Metropolit but she had not read it yet. The former did not interested in it.

people abroad were interested in whether he led out of the Soviet Union.

There was no any action taken by the procurator last and was expected to be in Lviv. A was asked to identify any officers that he planned to find there or to whom he would talk.

Facilities available by A, civilians said that they were the olive oil refinery to Sluchobnytsi because of better education and sophistication of their (Bachlans¹) membership.

According to A, civilians were at least partially aware of the "underground" activities of Sluchobnytsi consisting in the listing some rather "radical" religious literature, camping, and those making of rosaries and crosses ~~etc~~, and should have disapproved of them. On the other hand, Sluchobnytsi were much better off than Bachlans because they had larger financial aid from abroad, mainly from Canada.

A knew that Father Provincial of Sluchobnytsi in Lviv was Valerio Buti, bl. she did not meet him.

A was told by Mueller in Rome, Italy that they'll need to send next your Rev. Fr. AREZO from Rome to check on the situation in Lviv. ~~xxxxx~~
